Grand Manoeuvres
1,000th Birthday
Judge Gary Distributes
Potatoes 75c. a Barrel

By Arthur Brisbane
Copyright, 1922, by Arthur Brisbane
The French army is about to indulge in "grand manoeuvres" that are intended to impress Germany, refusing to pay what she hasn't got, and to impress England, who won't make Germany pay what she hasn't got.
It is a good deal like the old nursery rhyme, "Little won't beat dog; dog won't bite pig; pig won't get over the sty," etc.

Germany says she won't pledge
her mines in the Ruhr region, and she won't transfer all the gold she has to the care of the Allies.
France, absolutely dominating Europe in a military way, can take the mine and the gold, too.
It she chooses. The German mark drops a little lower; the French franc also. So much for that.

While Philadelphia prepares to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, the old town of Jostau, at the foot of the Harz mountains, celebrates its one thousandth birthday. In that old town of interesting history and adventure you may inspect manuscripts written by Martin Luther, statues of eight German emperors, the Kaiserhaus, oldest building (except church) in Germany. To learn how solidly they built, you visit the "Zwinger" Tower, which its stone walls almost twenty-five feet thick.

For a thousand years the old town has stood, sometimes half burned, once a free city in the Hanseatic League, once taken by the Swedes, and since the beginning of the last century owned by Prussia.

What will have happened in Germany and elsewhere in Europe and over here when Gollars celebrates his two thousandth birthday? That day will come around quickly, and the five-thousandth anniversary has come.

And what will have happened one million years hence, when this race begins real time, with sixty-nine million years to go,
according to the scientist?
There's really no hurry.

Judge Gary, of the big steel company, raises the wages of 15,000 laborers 25 cents.
That is a considerable sum. To increase the pay of a crowd of 15,000 men, to better times and general prosperity, what irrigation is to a farm.

Every dollar thus distributed will be spent as the men get it, and business promoted. That couldn't happen if the money stayed locked up in one big pocketbook.

Would you like to be a truck farmer? At Farmington, N. J., last Saturday potatoes sold at seventy-five cents for a barrel of 150 pounds. "Seconds," smaller-sized potatoes, could not be sold at all.

The grower got less than half a cent a pound for the potatoes. A hundred miles from Farmington, on the coast, at Boston, sold to consumers for six dollars a barrel. The problem of the United States is distribution, cutting down the profiting wall that separates producer from consumer. That problem doesn't seem to interest the government.

Three years ago, Samuel Greenberg was selling whiskey made of wood alcohol. Michael Collins, on the way to a wedding, stopped in and had two drinks. A few years later he was shot blind.
The jury gave him a verdict of $25,000 against Greenberg. Greenberg went into bankruptcy. Two days ago Collins went to the poorhouse, to spend the rest of his life.

There ought to be a law and a judge to put Mr. Greenberg to work, preferably at hard labor, earning money to support the man made blind by his criminal traffic.

To meet the lack of coal, Henry Ford puts obnoxious furnaces in his big plant, without making it one a day's work. You can't you have MONEY, ENOUGH OF IT.

TOLERANCE. These are the three things in industry.

Women in London take around,
instead of dogs, monkeys, foxes,
monkeys, sometimes parrots, dressed on the wrist, and get set for a pet looks silly, but it's better than a bulldog; it doesn't bite.

IRISH CHIEF OF FREE STATE LEADS LITTLE BAND IN BATTLE

Dublin, Aug. 23.—Republicans have been extremely active in County Tipperary during the past twenty-four hours. Three Free State soldiers were killed at Cahir and two Free State officers were killed at Clonmel, all being the victims of ambushes.

Free State troops made a number of raids here during the day, seizing chemicals and arms from Republicans and sympathizers.

More than a ton of explosives of various kinds were seized here.

Dublin, Aug. 23.—First detailed reports from both Free State troops and the insurgents tell of the ambush in which Michael Collins, commander-in-chief of the Irish Free State army, was slain.

It is the contention of the DeValera Republicans that Collins was not murdered, but was killed in battle during the course of which he and a party of officers and army troops made a stand against a superior number of Irregulars.

The National report has it that Collins was in an open touring car with Major-General Bullfinch, commander of the Free State troops in Cork, Commandant Dolan of the Mountjoy prison, and Captain Montgomery of the general staff.

A party of National troops was acting on a secret. At about 7:30 p.m. the party, on a wild mountain road, passed the village of Ballynashack on route to Bandon when shots rang out from either side of the road. The party of Republicans is believed to have numbered about 250, whereas the National troops numbered about twenty-five.

The Nationals might have escaped, but Collins ordered the motor car stopped and fire returned. The fighting lasted for half an hour. Collins fought bravely at the head of his men, charging them on until he was, emerging behind the car. The National soldiers fell in the tracks.

Several others were wounded. Collins disappeared for a short time. His body was placed in a motor car and when it was seen that he had died the Nationals proceeded with his body and with that of Commandant Dolan, who is also said to have been wounded, and other soldiers who were either killed or wounded to be taken back to Cork.

Collins' last words were: "Persevere then."

Collins' body is expected here tonight.

Offer of Old Wage Scale May Bring End to Big Labor War in Lawrence

Lawrence, Aug. 23.—The strategy board of the last Textile Workers' Union, this evening, delegates of the textile unions who have been directing the strike asked by the Old Big Union to attend another meeting tonight to discuss action upon the proposal.

The United Textile Workers announced it would be represented at this council.

Lawrence, Aug. 23.—The Pacific Mills, in a statement signed by Irving Sawdorth, special agent, today announced that the scale of wages effective before the strike of 800 workers started twenty-two weeks ago would be restored.

This means that the present scale will be reduced 20 per cent. The new scale is retroactive from September 1, although it goes into effect October 2.

The statement says: "The announcement, which was given to the employees and to Rev. Father Conley, chairman of the citizens' strike committee, said that the company could not guarantee the old scale's the cotton department beyond December 1. Employees are to work the reduction announced before October 1, as follows:

"In order to clear up the misunderstanding arising from previous reports the Pacific Mills states that its employees are to return at the present scale and that an adjustment will be made, effective October 1, and at that date retroactive to September 1, as follows:

"WIPSTED DEPARTMENT—The scale in effect prior to the reduction of March 27, 1922.

"COTTON DEPARTMENT—The scale in effect previous to March 27, 1922.

"DYEING DEPARTMENT—The scale in effect previous to March 27, 1922.

"The amount to be awarded has not been determined as yet. It will be agreed upon by the city council and the mayor at the next meeting of that body."

Representative Martin Hays and Corporation Counsel E. Mark Sullivan together with the mayor had a conference today, following which he announced his decision. The amount asked for by Lawrence is $14,000.

O'BRIEN TO CALL JURY

Suffolk Prosecutor and Attorney-General Plan Inquiries at the Same Time

District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien announced today he would call a special meeting of Suffolk County Grand Jury next week to investigate the affairs of the Tremont Trust Company.

"Evidence of irregularity as to the conduct of the affairs of the Tremont Trust Company has been called to my attention," said Mr. O'Brien, "and I have failed to prevent the matter before the grand jury."

That District Attorney O'Brien should call a special grand jury session simultaneously with the session of the grand jury is a significant fact in the case of the Tremont Trust Company.

It will be the first time in the history of the Commonwealth that two grand juries will deliberate on the same time. Attorney General O'Brien said the Legislature had provided for a grand jury in the case of a strike, but that it was a matter of common knowledge.

O'BRIEN TO CALL FOR JURY, ALLEN ANOTHER FOR PROBE OF BARK

REPORTS OF BREAK BETWEEN COUNTY AND STATE PROSECUTORS SPREAD

There were reports at the Court House that Attorney General Allen and District Attorney O'Brien had fallen out some months ago and that the breach had steadily widened. That something unusual had occurred was obvious, in the opinion of many.

The attorney general and his associates are shaking their heads at the reports. Attorney General Allen is expected to place before the Grand Jury extraordinary charges against the former District Attorney George McElroy, for years attached to the Boston Health Board as food investigator, visited the with a. Trafts of Middlesex, William J. Corcoran and others, in addition to the R. V. Greco Co. case, the case of closed banks and bucket shops and blackmaling.

TO PROBE MILK PRICES.

Mr. Allen is expected to present the major cases in person. The machinery for assembling his Grand Jury extraordinary are already well under way at the Court House. District Attorney O'Brien and Assistant District Attorney Henry P. Fiddling will offer evidence before the special Grand Jury. In addition to the Tremont Trust case the District Attorney O'Brien will probe the milk combine to inflate prices. He and his associates have been busy for weeks investigating every phase of the milk industry. Special Officer George McElroy, for years attached to the Boston Health Board as food investigator, visited the with supply stations of New England and made a report to District Attorney O'Brien. He is understood to have reported that conditions did not warrant the increase in price recently threatened by the milk contractors in Greater Boston. Attorney General Allen will confer

Sleeping on Tracks Wrong Way to Get Five-Cent Fare

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Michael Durovich was told in plain words by a judge his method of campaigning for a five-cent street car fare, while quite original, was "all wrong."

Durovich dragged a bed across the car tracks and retired to peaceful slumber. A sign said he'd move when the nickel fare was granted.

DETAILS OF COLLINS' DEATH SHOW HE WAS SLAIN IN BATTLE

IRISH LEADER FIGHTING AGAINST HEAVY ODDS

night from Cork on a steamer. The Free State commander-in-chief had been enthusiastically welcomed on his arrival at Cork. Troops and civilians throughout the whole vicinity of Cork turned out to see him. It is understood that Collins was bound to be killed when the fatal assault was made.

The killing of Collins was followed by a violent burst of activity for the Free State. The Free State troops have already begun a vigorous new offensive in Cork and Tipperary counties to rout up the republican marauders. Five deaths have been reported.

Richard Mulcahy, Minister of Defense in the Irish Provisional government, and former Chief of Staff of the Irish Provisional army, will succeed Collins as Commander-in-Chief.

The Cabinet was summoned to consider the situation. At the same time official announcement was made that the death of Collins necessitates a meeting of the new Dail Eireann parliament on Saturday, if possible.

Killing of Collins, the idol of the Free State, and the death of Griffith, the chief supporter of the Anglo-Irish treaty and the Irish constitution, has intensified the popular bitterness against De Valera and his followers. His chief aide, however, was made that he had been arrested at once.

DUBLIN IN MOURNING

It was reported that De Valera was considering an appeal to the irregulars to abandon their warfare against the Free State.

Despite the warning of Mulcahy against reprisals, it is probable that the Free State army officers would be able to restrain their men if the opportunity came to retaliate. As great was the admiration of the troops for "Mike" Collins, as he was familiarly known.

All of Dublin is in mourning today. It is reported that there is a division of opinion in the Cabinet over the policy to be pursued toward De Valera. Before his death Collins risked a frontal attack on the Free State to arrest the Irish for their action would have been a disaster. Other members of the cabinet, however, urged that De Valera be treated as a rebel and a murderer.

Free State officials are believed to know where De Valera is at present and are able to lay hands upon him if they wish.

The passing of Collins and Griffith leaves William T. Cosgrave, Minister and Foreign Secretary, as the only standing figure at Dublin.

A public funeral will be held for Collins. Hundreds of persons filled the churches today to offer prayers for repose of Collins' soul. Collins was a Catholic.

With De Valera now reported as suffering from dangerous wounds inflicted in battle with the Free State, the command of Collins and Collins' men, and Collins' men, will be without real leadership. What the outcome will be for Ireland is cause for deep thinking.

Two unsuccessful attempts were made on the life of Collins by the Republicans during the past few months. The latest was made on Collins and was thwarted by the breaking down of his automobile on the way to Grassington in County Wick. Because of the delay through the breakdown Collins was unable to reach his brother in another automobile.

A group of Republicans, unaware of the change in Collins' plans, were waiting in Mullingar to attack his party on their return.

When the party appeared at a sharp curve near the railway, the Collins' car was struck by a truck and was exploded between the engine.

Early thirty-two years of age at the time of his death, and holder of a record of other dangers, including

Meteorite Career of Slain Free State Leader

Michael Collins, the slain Irish Free State leader, was born in Roscrea, County Cork, 33 years ago. He was educated at the Clonlisk National School near his home and went to London to work at 15 years of age.

While working in the London postoffice he was secretly drilling in the British capital with other Irish patriots.

He returned to Dublin to take part in the Easter Rebellion, was captured, imprisoned and released shortly afterwards.

It was Collins who secretly organized and drilled the Sinn Fein army and directed the operations against the British forces.

From a private, he rose to commander-in-chief of the army, was elected to the Dail Eireann and with Griffith, conducted the British treaty negotiations.

When Griffith died last week, Collins as Minister of Finance in the Dail Eireann and commander-in-chief of the Irish forces took charge of the Irish government.

His journey through Ireland in disguise, when a $50,000 reward had been set for his capture, "dend or dead" by the British, building up of a secretly-organized army that drilled by night with arms smuggled into the country past a watchful British eye.

Collins was a unique figure for the more or less prosaic twentieth century. For years he was a time he lived constantly with the cloud of sudden death hanging over his head—the cloud that has finally flashed with the fire of assassination.

COLLINS' TALENT WASTED, SAYS HARRIGAN

Worcester, Aug. 23.—John P. Harrigan of this city, one of the founders of the American Association for the Reorganization of the Irish Republic, president of the Massachusetts Council, close friend of Eamon de Valera, commenting on the death of Michael Collins, leader of the provisional government in Ireland, said:

"I am so glad that his talents were wasted in leading a rebellion against the British government of Ireland, instead of being used for it."

"I cannot help but think of his death in the face of war of his own making."

"I have confidence in the Irish people, and in the leadership of De Valera. The fate of a nation is more important than the life of any man."

De Valera Rides Into Hills With His Cavalry

London, Aug. 23.—Eamon de Valera has been seen riding into the hills with his cavalry, and consequently is more elusive than ever, says the correspondent of the Daily Mail with the National army in Ireland.

De Valera is believed to be either in the neighborhood of Fermoy, County Cork, where it is known he has friends, or in the Kerry hills, where he has a number of followers are concentrated.

Collins' Body Due in Dublin Tonight

Dublin, Aug. 23 (By the Associated Press).—It was announced this afternoon that the body of Michael Collins would arrive in Dublin tonight. The body left Cork Harbor today on the steamer Celtic. The journey occupies twelve hours. Funeral arrangements are being made.

OLD HOME BURNED DOWN.

The old home, which was a ten-room, two-story house, is no longer standing. It was burned down by the British forces during the rebellion. The house was built by Collins' father and was the family home.

Call Collins "Greatest and Bravest Irishman"

Dublin, Aug. 23 (By the Associated Press).—The Irish government has issued an order of commendation for the death of Michael Collins. The greatest and bravest of our countrymen has been snatched from us at a moment when victory smiled through the clouds upon the rising up of the nation to which he had devoted his life. His death is a national calamity.

"Mother Would Be Proud of Mike Today, Says Slain Chief's Brother

By PATRICK COLLINS.
Sergeant of Police of Chicago and Brother of Michael Collins.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Far out of my mind was the news of the death of the old country. I was full of the dreams that came to him after he heard at mother's knee the stirring things that he people had done for Ireland in the seventy years that preceded his birth.

I don't remember much of the time when I was a boy. I was five when the family moved to Chicago. I was a boy when I was a boy. I was a boy when I was a boy.

TEARS SILK DRESS OFF GIRL WHEN SHE REFUSES TO WED

HAD MADE HER GIFT OF GOWN

Rescued From Mob by Police; New Haven Man Is Sent to Jail

North Adams, August 23.—Andrew Photo of New Haven, Conn., was given two months in the House of Correction, Pittsfield, after being found guilty of assault and battery on Mildred Haley, seventeen years old, on Centre street.

It was alleged he tore the dress from the girl and would have been mobbed by the crowd that quickly gathered on the street where he episode took place, but for the quick action of the police.

TELS STRANGE STORY.
The girl told the court a strange story. She said Photo came into her life Saturday morning for the first time, when he visited the rooming house owned by her father.

He asked her to go out with him, she said, and on being told she had nothing to wear, went out and purchased a gown. "This he gave her without hesitation."

They went to Adams Sunday afternoon and on the way Photo asked her to be his wife, she testified.

She consented and they sought a house in the town of Adams, but because of the five-day law, could not get one.

They continued to Pittsfield, registered there as man and wife, and decided to return to Adams to see to their N. Y.

She then became frightened and, and telephoned her mother asking for help in getting home. A tall man was seen for her and she returned to North Adams with Photo in the machine.

He met her on Monday night, asked her if she would marry on the promise made to her mother, and when she refused, he ripped the silk dress from her shoulders, she said.

He then ran for his life and hid straight into the arms of Patrolman Rineen Caron. The latter took him to headquarters, away from the crowd that threatened him bodily harm.

BAND TO PLAY AT BIG WATER CARNIVAL

An inspiring band concert will be given at Charles River Basin, West End, next Saturday afternoon in connection with the Boston American's annual water carnival. It will be one of the features of the big outing.

The concert was arranged through the courtesy of James H. Shaw, head of the Boston Park Commission, who is always willing to help the people of the city obtain a full measure of enjoyment on their holidays.

Mr. Shaw has assigned the all-around band of twenty-six musicians, under leadership of J. J. Bullman of No. 27 Oakley street, Dorchester, to play an attractive program while the spectators are assembling during the girls one-mile swimming race for championship of New England and for a short time after the contest.

All indications point to a record crowd of spectators at Saturday's outing. Many feature attractions have been arranged, including a special exhibition by Miss Agnes Mack of Russell street, Charlestown, one of the cleverest and most daring divers in the country.

Another feature will be a demonstration of life saving by Miss Irene Muir of No. 104 Washington street, Roxbury, and Miss Mabel Mangler.

Lower Electric Lighting Prices
Electric lighting, after September 1, will be lower in price than ever—lower than Pre-War prices.

The reduction from 10 cents to 7½ cents benefits approximately 135,000 customers for Edison Service.

Electric wiring and fixtures are also down to Pre-War prices. This is the time to wire your house or have additional lighting outlets put in for increased Electric Comfort during the autumn and winter evenings.

Telephone Beach 3300, Sales Dept., or your District Office for information.

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston

of No. 524 Tremont street, South End.

Marbles for the big swimming race will close at 3 p. m. tomorrow. None will be considered after that hour. Every girl who swims in the event will be registered in the N. E. A. A. U. under whose sanction it will be conducted.

More than 100 men guests have entered for the BIG SWIM. The latest entrants follow:
Alvin Kestel, Boston, No. 110 Davis street, Boston.

PLANS SUICIDE, SENDS MONEY FOR GAS

A strange set of circumstances combined today to frustrate the plans for suicide made by David Crowley, an aged resident at a Broad street, Salem, boarding house.

Bergeron Duffy was expecting an important letter and asked a news paper man to call at the postoffice today to see if it had arrived. A clerk found no letter for Bergeron Duffy, but did find one addressed to "the 'bank man'" at the police station, which was taken to headquarters.

ASKS ENGLISH LABOR NOT LOAD U. S. COAL

Moscow, Aug. 22.—The executive committee of the Third International publishes an appeal in the newspaper Izvestia asking English labor, particularly the transport workers, dock laborers and miners, to aid the striking American miners by not loading coal for the United States.

big be intended to end his life, and sending fifty cents to pay for the gas he would use. Crowley also sent a receipt for a Liberty bond which was to be used to pay funeral expenses.

Patrolmen who rushed to Crowley's home found he had just turned on the gas and had laid down on his bed. He told the police he had mailed the letter at midnight, expecting it would not be delivered before noon. He said he was more than ninety years old, had no friends nor relatives and was ill.

LEGION HEADS NOT FIGHTING DR. BRIDES

Washington, Aug. 22.—The American Legion will not make any endorsement of a successor to Dr. Arthur H. Bridges, director of the New England District of the United States Bureau.

This statement was made by Francis MacNider, National Commander, when asked if he had endorsed Captain William J. Blake to succeed Dr. Bridges.

"It has never been my ever will be the policy of the national legion organization to endorse anyone for political office," said Commander MacNider. "It is absolutely wrong that I have endorsed Captain Blake to succeed Dr. Bridges. I do not know what may be the attitude of the Massachusetts organization, but the position of the national organization is clear, since it is defined in the legion constitution."

Massachusetts Congressmen, mentioned, are somewhat puzzled by the activities of New England's legion. Commander MacNider admitted he had been approached by Vice-Chairman William H. Doyle and State Adjutant Len A. Spillane, who declared they were supporting a successor to Dr. Bridges.

A statement purporting to have been made by Doyle and Spillane named Colonel Charles R. Furber, director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, as saying: "There never has been and there will not be any such removal, because I am under Dr. Bridges' contract of the Boston office a model one."

Scotland

Who is the wealthy Boston man supporting the named child detained at Ellis Island with Mrs. Elizabeth McIntosh, a wealthy woman from Scotland?

For what reason is inquiry woven around the identity of the fair-haired little chap who lives snugly upon the receipts of checks forwarded by the bank of the late Mr. H. J. McIntosh, an American, on State street?

These questions are being asked following revelations of the Scotch woman in regard to her "nephew child" in which she names the State street bank house as the source of the child's income. The bright-faced little youngster of four years, arrived at New York three days ago aboard the steamer "Celtic," was accompanied by the attentive Scotch woman, who, until now, has refused to lift the veil of mystery which she has so carefully drawn about the child.

When the woman suddenly refused to account for the percentage and identity of the child, the immigration officials in order that government inspectors might determine whether or not the child was a public charge.

One in the department, pen, the activities of the woman in her endeavor to conceal the identity of the handsome child, became an investigation, and officials now refuse to reveal names or particulars about the case.

Mrs. McIntosh has at last partly broken the silence, but her tip remains sealed as to the actual identity of the child of the "benefactor" who sent her to Atlantic City paid for one week, beginning September 1, but she will not be fully satisfied by the hints she has been given.

Here are some of the gifts she has sent to the child: "That boy is four years old, that he was born in Shanghai, China, that he took him from an institute for foreign born children in Shanghai to Scotland where, for three years, regularly each month, she has been receiving checks for his support through the banking house of Lee, Higginson & Co. of Boston, and she is now taking him to Milwaukee, where he is to be adopted by a prominent family in that city."

Officials on Ellis Island were unable to account for the activities of a lawyer who said his name was Friedman, and who is supposed to have come all the way from Chicago to fight against deportation.

CHARMING GIRL TO GET FREE OUTFIT

Here's good news for the winner of the Boston American's MOST CHARMING GIRL tournament.

Boston merchants will equip her from head to toe with the most recent fashions in girls' wear.

CHARGES PLOT TO ESTABLISH COOKE WAGE

By International News Service.
Foughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 23.—A business, frustrated in its attempts to destroy organized labor in America by forcing millions of workers into idleness and reducing employment to all who are members of labor unions, is now shooting for unattained immigration to flood the reviving labor market, declared James P. Holland, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, in his report to the convention of the federation here today.

President Holland played "open shop" industrialism which he charged has imported Chinese coolies to work in factories to effect a reduction in wages.

"Industrial autocracy has, by attempting to reduce wages to the level of Chinese coolie standards, shut down textile mills throughout the nation and thrown the men and women operatives on the streets, closing the coolie mills and crippling the country's paper mills for nearly a year."

"It has broken trade union solidarity, but as far as could be learned no higher was obtained there. The prohibition agents wanted no time on non-bar saloons, as the proprietors were known to have sold up all of their beer at the request of the brewers a few days ago."

It was said that the brewers' alliance with the dealers for the sale of beer was broken, and that the dealers of beer were forced into the streets.

Butted over, whiskey, gin and port were obtained by the raiders in the majority of roadhouses. A party of men and women enjoying a wise party at the Cumberland Hotel last night were rudely disturbed when the raiding detail entered.

The raid was said to have been planned Monday by Chief Enforcement Officer Exclusion at a conference at Boston with Prohibition Enforcement Director Roberts.

AS BOSTON MEN AND HOTELS R. R.

Providence, Aug. 23.—In a surprise attack, three details of prohibition enforcement agents sought the State early today in a series of raids that uncovered tremendous quantities of liquor.

Traveling in fast automobiles, forty-six men from Boston, in command of Chief Enforcement Officer John E. Rogers of Pawtucket, raided practically every roadhouse and hotel in the State, and left the proprietors gagging.

It was the first raid since the recent shakedown in the prohibition enforcement forces, and was staged many hours before the liquor sellers expected it.

Among the places raided were the Cumberland Hotel and Hillcrest Hotel in the town of Cumberland, and the Sleepy Hollow and Diamond Hill in the town of Diamond Hill road between Woonsocket and the Massachusetts line.

The St. Cloud Hotel at Johnston, closed two days ago by order of Governor Barbour, was also raided, but as far as could be learned no higher was obtained there.

The prohibition agents wanted no time on non-bar saloons, as the proprietors were known to have sold up all of their beer at the request of the brewers a few days ago."

It was said that the brewers' alliance with the dealers for the sale of beer was broken, and that the dealers of beer were forced into the streets.

"Private Fight," Just a Scrap Among Friends

"It was just a private fight," said Leo J. Morley, of No. 59 Julian street, here, who was stood on the floor of Dudley and West Court streets today, bleeding from a nose wound.

"Just a little fight among friends. The police needn't bother about it. I'll settle it as soon as I come out of the hospital."

Even at the City Hospital, where he was taken, Morley refused to give the name or names of his assailants, nevertheless the police are investigating the beating.

William J. Hannon, twenty-seven years old, is dead at his home, No. 121 M. Vernon street, Duxbury, following a short illness. He was a tire salesman and the son of T. J. Collector and Mrs. Thomas J. Hannon. Service will be held Friday.

SICK OF LIFE, WOMAN AND YOUTH DIE IN SURF AT REVERE

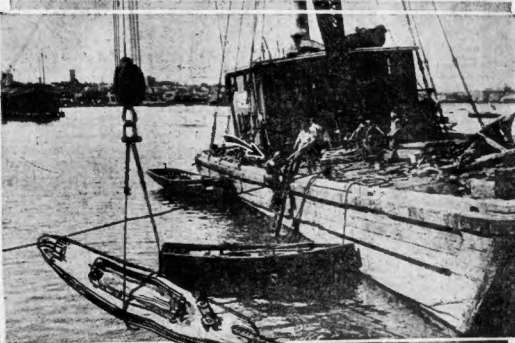

GIRLS WILL HAVE SOMETHING AROUND THEM, Y'know! And so the coast is back. Boston fags are already wearing 'em again. Blame it on the new fall styles. You've gotta have a slim waist. Here's Helen Hanson in a dancing suit.

PROVING THAT ALL PEARLS AREN'T IN OYSTERS! Better hurry up and jump into that old bathing suit if you want a San Beauty Prize. Today's winner is Miss Catherine Whitney of South Boston. Check for $5 will be mailed to her. Wrap yourself around your suit and then wrap it up and send it in. Address San Beauty Editor, Boston American.

DESPONDENCY SENDS WOMAN AND YOUTH TO THEIR DEATH IN SURF OFF REVERE BEACH! FOLLOWING CLOSELY ON THE SUICIDE BY SHOOTING of George Y. Smith of Holyoke at the resort, Miss Anna B. Kelley, 46, of No. 241 Highland avenue, Quincy, and Andre Halberg, 31, of No. 29 Oakland avenue, Everett, flung themselves into the ocean from a beach at points two miles from each other. Halberg's body was first observed in the surf off the Point of Pines. Halberg had been in health and Miss Kelley had been out of work for two months. The circles, from left to right are, Sidney Silverberg, who found body in surf; Halberg, the victim; Michael D. Madden, who helped to rescue his body, and Mr. L. Peterson, Halberg's cousin with whom he made his home.

RAISE MENACE TO NAVIGATION IN BOSTON HARBOR! After a peaceful rest in Davy Jones' locker for a number of years, the old schooner ship "Dunkin'" was brought to the surface after perilous work by John Robertson, a diver. Power boats and small craft have nearly been wrecked by the submerged hull on several occasions.

THE POOR FELLA! HE'S never seen a flip flapper. So he says, anyway. Yusai Takahashi, commissioner of police and education, Shimoda, Japan, says Boston is the finest city in the U. S. Here he is with the key to the city, tendered at City Hall.

THE FARMER'S ALMANAC WAS RIGHT—THERE'S a Peach of a Peach Crop This Season! The choicest of Squantum's crop has officially been declared to be Miss Bertha Rind. Miss Rind was selected by popular vote as the most beautiful girl in Squantum in contest conducted by the Squantum Women's Club. She is a talented musician and very popular.

THE QUICK AND THE DEAD! Are the toes of Dr. J. Newton Ros, wealthy former Chicago hotel owner, tickling daisies or is he alive and kicking? That's the problem Federal agents are trying to solve. Ros is supposed to have died shortly after he was sentenced to Leavenworth for violating the dry law. He is alleged to have arranged for the burial of another body as his own at Valparaiso, Ind. Ros is said to be alive in Argentina.

FALLING FOR THIS Snappy Paris Fall Suit is an Easy Matter! It is made up of whole cloth, two-broadcloth, to be exact. Black is the color of the garment, tastefully lined with white satin. It's a Drexell model. Try it on your machine.

RETURNING VACATIONISTS, IF YOU DON'T GET A GRIP ON YOURSELF Somebody's Likely to Get Your Grip! Returning Boston folk are warned to be on the lookout for the valise crook, who cleverly masquerades as a fellow traveler and who steals your suitcase by slipping an empty and bottomless affair down over your own. Specially arranged teeth at the bottom of the suitcase prevent it from falling out and your property is gone. Photo shows how the scheme is worked. (Illustration by Reel)

FRANCOIS, YOU'VE Caused 'Us Girls' an Awful Lot of Worry With Your Wave! Felke, daisies hands with Mr. Marcel, who invented a wave that has become more popular than the ocean waves. Here he is waving his spouse's locks. (International News Reel)

"LISSEN, GIRLS, IS MY New Flapper Hat On Straight?" Mrs. Dabbin, who chauffeurs for a soda water cart in Faneuil square, says she's a little house talk! Jackson fags to mind their own business. They may be hot weather pop, she adds.

DAVIS AND WARD, FIRST TO WIN NATIONAL TENNIS DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP 22 YEARS AGO, Saw to Youth at Longwood! An odd, spirited and altogether interesting match was witnessed at the Chestnut Hill club when Dwight Davis, donor of the famous Davis Cup, and Holcomb Ward paired off against the youthful Vincent Richards and Tilden, the singles tennis champion. The youngsters won, but they didn't have a clash. The photograph shows Tilden making a smashing drive. Davis is shown in the circle at left and William M. Johnston, Davis cup contender, at right.

A Swift Monkey

THE species of monkey known as the Potos is very swift. Built somewhat on the lines of a greyhound, it can gallop at a speed of between thirteen and fifteen miles an hour, and outdistance a good pony.

ROMANCE OF A BOSTON BUSINESS GIRL

"He's a mechanic," said Neil. "Works in the pattern loft on something like that. Terasa says he's a genius—a second Edison."

"The way she makes him out he'll be owning the Electric Company in a few years."

"Are they engaged?" My heart was in my voice.

"Not that I know of. He left Yale to enlist. Got a commission with the engineering corps. Teresa says he's a wiz at mechanical stuff. She didn't hear but a line

"I suppose she could back his inventions if he ever makes any. It takes money to put patents on the market. I never dreamed Teresa had heart enough to marry for love."

Nell had come down to buy a

"I want to wear on an automobile trip. Train Bidwell and his folks had invited her.

"Like that one, Mary?" We were standing at Jordan's. "Let's go in here. Maybe Sadie Mae has a bargain. She's a good kid. She always saves me six bits or a dollar."

I didn't feel in the mood for

Sadie's Mame, but I followed Nell

WOMAN IS BACK HAND WITNESS

ATTACKS ALIBI OF ALLEGED SLAYER

Tells of Party Attended by Simboli; Brooklyn Men Warned to Flee

Joseph Simboli, last of the seven men to take the stand in their own behalf in the Black Hand murder trial before Judge Dubuque, completed his testimony today and the State's rebuttal began.

The first witness for the Commonwealth was Mrs. Antoinette Marcella, of New York.

She told of a party given in a flat at No. 15 Prince street last January, the night before the murder of Michael Rosenberg was committed.

SMASHES ALIBI.
Her testimony was intended to cut into the alibi that Joseph Simboli had given.

That of others, attempted to establish, Simboli had offered the testimony of other witnesses to the contrary, to prove that at 4:30 of the morning of January 18, when Rosenberg was killed, he was home in bed.

Mrs. Marcella said that on the evening of January 18 Simboli was present at the party in the Prince street flat.

Others present were Louis D'Adamo, the defendant who became known during the trial; Lorenzo Frascino, who subsequently appeared as a witness for the State; Mrs. Mary Kelly's husband, a man named Frascino; Don Carmelo Ferrara and a woman friend of Ferrara known as Carolina.

INQUIREMENTS TIPPED OFF.
Of these all Mrs. Simboli and D'Adamo were from Brooklyn.

Ferrara is the man who was shot to death in a Brooklyn Summer garden eight days ago. He was slain on the eve of his return to Boston to appear as one of the witnesses in the case.

Mrs. Marcella said she heard of the murder the morning it was committed. At 5 o'clock of Friday she telephoned said Rosenberg had been killed and that it would be advisable for the Brooklyn friends to leave, as Boston would become pretty hot for them.

She confessed ignorance as to the names of those who flew Ferrara to safety.

YALE GETS $100,000 IN SLOANE WILL.
White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Yale University will receive $100,000 from the will of William Sloane, New York merchant, it was learned today when the will disposing of an estate valued at $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 was filed for probate here.

Among the public institutions which will receive $100,000 are the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Natural History Museum, the Public Library, The International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. and the Presbyterian Hospital of New York will each receive $100,000. The will left $75,000 in relatives and the residue to the widow.

'WHITE MULE' CARRIER PAYS FINE OF $20.
Fred Carter, nineteen-year-old Portland youth, held fifty gallons of "white mule" but no registration state showed his driver when he drove it onto a part of the River street bridge, where it was found late last night. This morning in the Chelsea District Court, Judge Dawson found him guilty of illegal transportation of liquor and he paid a fine of $20. The charge of no registration was placed on file.

5 WOMEN FACE JUDGE IN WARE STRIKE ROW.
Ware, Aug. 23.—Five women were before District court today on charges of intimidating workers in the mills of the Otis Company, which resumed Monday after a shutdown of six months. Mary Kannon was found guilty and her husband was sentenced to two weeks behind bars. Three others pleaded not guilty and were sent over to the grand jury for Judge Henry C. Davis. The trial of a fifth woman, Mary Blaisdell, will continue.

Mrs. Snow, Author, Dies.
Cleveland, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Jane Snow, author, lecturer, student and biographer, is dead at the home of her daughter in Lakewood, at the age of eighty-two. Among her best known books is "Women of Tennyson."

Back From Europe

Arrival of two liners from Europe and the fact that another will arrive tomorrow morning caught Collector Larkin and Immigration Commissioner Johnson out of expected inspectors.

Today, Collector Larkin was in South Boston to examine the baggage of passengers on the Arabe, in from Mediterranean ports and the Arane from Liverpool with eighty-eight cabin passengers. They will also serve on the arrival of the Pittsburgh on Thursday with about 600 passengers.

The Whitehall brought several passengers. Among them were Arthur H. Mudge, Michigan, deceased here; Mrs. Marlow and child, David Marshall, of the Florida School; Mrs. R. A. Greenwood and A. E. Hay; The Rev. Thomas J. Walsh of Del. War. Cal., who has been in the room, was probably moved to the room of the Massachusetts General Michael Collins. Father Walsh declared that Ireland's interest could not have been so great as the death he was a worse blow at this time. The Whitehall brought 1,000 tons of British coal.

Among those landing from the Arabe today were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Santostavous of Newton. They have been visiting at Dr. Santostavous's old home in Taurian, Italy, which he has not seen since he came to America a boy, forty-two years ago. Other passengers were: W. R. Corney, American Consul at Florence; Telesio Luceri, Italian Consul at Pittsburgh; Mrs. Alice Bergant and Miss Virginia Bergant of Cambridge, and Miss Alice Shattuck of Boston.

IT'S A GAME FOR LIVE ONES IN SOCIETY

TWO MEN, ONE NAME, THEN TROUBLE

McAuliffe is a fine old name. John J. of No. 14 Denmore street, South End, a candidate for Representative from Ward Six, Boston, thinks so, but after his pretty tough when one becomes entangled with the "limbs of the law" through a pure case of mistaken identity.

It seems that several months ago another "John McAuliffe" with several other aliases, "Alphie" his bond after being arrested charged with possession of morphine. And now the real John J. McAuliffe is in the hands of the law.

The real John J. was sitting as a juror in Suffolk Superior Court. The bondsmen rushed in and identified him as the "Alphie" who had arrested and later released on bail. And then came the policeman who had arrested the other John J. McAuliffe of the Denmore street address.

And today, Representative candidate John J. McAuliffe, through his attorney, Bernard E. Carson, entered civil action against Bostonian Ingram.

GLASSPERS TAKE STAY SINGLE

HAVE LOST ALL THEIR MYSTERY

And, Says Novelist, Modern Males Lose Desire to Marry

By F. A. WRAY.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Aug. 23.—Modern women in driving men into celibacy. This startling indictment against the women of the "flapper age" was made today by Francis Henry Gibb, critic and novelist, and one of the best known publicists in Great Britain.

Modern women, according to Mr. Gibb, is robbed of her mystery, and therefore the desire of man to marry her is lessened.

"There is no question that the mystery in which women used to be wrapped was a romantic asset and a provocative challenge, which sometimes led men to propose marriage to women, whom they certainly would not have wished to marry if they had known them better," said Mr. Gibb.

"Disappearance of women does not merely mean that chaperones have been discarded as obsolete.

Hey, King Alfonso, Did You Ever See Arms Like These?

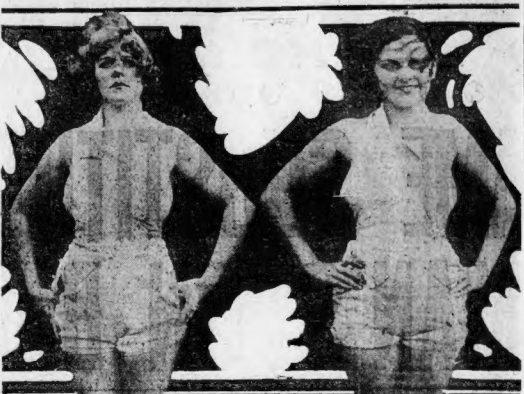

Photo by International News Service. Marjorie Whittington (left) and Dolores Rousseau of the Ziegfeld Follies, declared by leading artists to possess arms and backs that constitute all that makes for beauty, charm and grace. If King Alfonso, who has just declared that American women lack abnormally arms ever gave the slopshoes of these two young women the once over, he would retract his statement at once.

TO BE READY TO FIND ANOTHER FOR HUSBAND

New York, Aug. 23.—J. B. Woodward, wealthy newspaper stockholder, has filed a general denial in the $100,000 breach of promise suit of Miss Edith Ransom of Richmond, Va.

Woodward denies he ever was engaged to Miss Ransom, denies that he ever introduced her in Chicago and in Rumor, N. J., as his fiancée and denies he ever gave her money to purchase a trousseau.

Miss Ransom promptly said she would produce letters and other documents to prove her case. She showed one letter purporting to come from Woodward. It ran:

WORK OR MARRY.

"Dear Edith:

"I feel sorry for you, but I have reached the point where I cannot continue to send you money. You have been borrowing from me to help you regain your health. The time has come when you must either marry or resume work."

"I cannot understand why you do not accept Harry. From what you say he is a fine fellow and thinks the world of you. You are a fine girl, with right ideas, and would make him a good wife. You will never find a perfect man. If he is neither too young nor too old, what more could you ask? If you are not going to marry I suggest that you get a position in Chicago, where living conditions are much cheaper."

Sincerely, J. B. W.

"TRAVELING COMPANION."

Miss Ransom also has a letter in which the writer refers to her as "my little traveling companion," she says Woodward wrote it.

She said today:

"I was sick with influenza and he was the part of the Good Samaritan. He helped me and paid my bills. After that we had a courtship of two years. All that time thought that he was going to marry me."

"When I started this suit Mr. Woodward came to me. He said that if I got such an action I was sure to lose. But when I was told that he was not a lawyer, I was not afraid."

"His letters to me are not as foolish as some love letters, but Daddy Lang was not a correspondent. I had school lessons. What he neglected in writing he certainly made up in action and words when he was with me."

"He was rightfully jealous of me, not that he had any cause to be, but just because that was his nature."

NICHOLSON'S LOWER FLIES ARMY TRIAL

The system of trying junior officers in the United States Army was today assailed by Attorney William F. Flaherty in his closing argument for Major Malcolm Wheeler Nicholson, on trial for neglect of duty before a board of inquiry at the Army base, South Boston.

The attorney declared that fifteen army officers had testified, through the aid of the ability of Major Flaherty, in the service at Columbia, Camp Dix, and Scotland. He reviewed the treatment received by Nicholson from Major-General Stedman and Colonel Duggan and declared it was unbecomingly "rich and spiteful."

"If this sort of system is to prevail," said Flaherty, "what has fallen to the lot of Major Nicholson, presented to the evidence, presented that a junior officer will often be compelled to face a superior officer who has the seat of authority vested in him."

"I am certain that this system of the United States Army that is being tried in the case of Major Nicholson should be wiped out. I am sure that if the people of the country knew the system that exists they would agree with me that it has no right to exist. What would you think of an officer with a certificate of honor from a commanding medical officer, being charged with neglect of duty by a Colonel?"

"Regarding the two anonymous letters presented here, I am sure that a man is to be judged on the U. S. Army. It is evident from a careful study of these records that the intent of the judges was to give a verdict of guilty. It is peculiar that the evidence was presented to the board of inquiry, who referred it to General Bailey, who was the one who made the charge."

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

"Major Nicholson's case has at times been behind closed doors. Avenue after avenue has been closed to him. He has been dragged from pillar to pillar in an effort to sap his courage. A junior officer has been told to complain of his superior officer. No officer in the army is permitted to complain of his superior officer. It is a rule of the army and no superior officer has any right to use profanity and bias in order to condemn an officer that he may dislike."

"The War Department's procedure in these cases is not one of law, but of a series of arbitrary positions, who are in present positions."

YANKEE LADIES' ARMS TOO FAT, SAYS MONARCH

By C. F. BENTLEY.
Boston American Correspondent.

Des Moines, Aug. 23.—Here, a what the King of Spain thinks of the arms of American women.

"Very few women have arms pretty enough to afford the new sarcelle-the-birds fashion. The arms of American women are too stout and those of the British too skinny. The Spanish arms are too short. France supplies the best small arms, and Italy the best, June type."

This is the statement reported to have been made by King Alfonso XIII. at the race meeting, several thousand pairs of bare arms featured the race, creating the unprecedented impression of a crowd of fashionable women clad only in extravagant bathing suits. The King added:

"A woman may wear décolleté or a gown which leaves her back bare, or appear in the shortest of skirts, but she never gives the same idea of indecency as the arms of a woman who is too stout or too fat. Therefore I must be contented with modern women have great pluck to exhibit their bare arms at a race meeting where the absence of shaded artificial light makes their true faults more glaring."

PLAUSIBLE AGREE.

Prince L'Archevêque, the Marquis de Guay and Princess Christopher, of Greece, are reported to be in agreement with the King's statement. The new race, which, according to all indications, will rule the Fall fashion, is the long, wide-open sleeve.

The long, wide-open sleeve is arranged. Princesses have taken it. The shadow sleeve of flimsy lace just over the shoulder is the maximum concession allowed and is admitted by the most graceful.

NOVEL DESIGN.

Economical women also can adopt a novel design which may be worn long or short sleeve, according to whether the shadow sleeve is worn alone or with a buttoned sleeve, sleeve, reaching almost to the elbow.

The "humping sleeve" is another design, featuring a wide band of lace or ribbon, which is fastened to the shoulder and hangs down the arm, while a thin bracelet holds the end of it up to the wrist. When worn it gives an impression like the primitive pictures of winged angels.

R. I. AUTO HEADLIGHTS ANNOY MASS. DRIVERS.

So many complaints have been made of the use of the headlights by Rhode Island motorists that Frank A. Goodwin, the State Engineer of Motor Vehicles, today decided to prosecute all drivers from Rhode Island who violate the laws by Rhode Island motorists that fail to conform to the Massachusetts requirements. Goodwin today sent word to Charles R. Wallington, in charge of motor-vehicle law enforcement in Rhode Island, to the hope that the Rhode Island motorists will comply with Bay State laws before they visit this State.

Baby Was a Boy, Dad Said, Now It's a Girl

New York, Aug. 23.—Clad only in the pale blue, Charles H. Shapiro, lawyer of Ridgeport, Ct., either jumped or fell from his room on the sixth floor of the Hotel Commodore today and was almost instantly killed. Shapiro, who had been suffering from a nervous breakdown, registered at the hotel Sunday, with a friend, Frank Block, of No. 11 Orange avenue, New Haven, with the intention of proceeding today to Jersey Park for a vacation.

Mr. Block said that when he left, Mr. Shapiro was sitting near the window reading. A few minutes later pedestrians on Lexington avenue saw the pale-skinned figure hurtling through the air on the Fifth Street side of the hotel. They notified John Lough, who with the manager, found the body on the roof of a five-story extension. Shapiro room was located on the tenth floor.

An ambulance was summoned from Flower Hospital, but the lawyer was pronounced dead on arrival there. Shapiro was married and had five children.

PLUNGES FIVE STORIES TO DEATH

Hot Dogs!

Pine Bluff, Ark., Aug. 23.—Three thousand five hundred proposals of marriage were made today by 3,500 suitors to 3,500 girls in the city of Pine Bluff, Ark.
